A Message From Snow White

Greetings from the Eternal Kingdom, where everyone is welcome!

My friends in the Kingdom and I wanted to keep the magic alive for everyone who has watched our show. So we created this Activity Book filled with fun games and activities that you can do with your family and friends!

If you've yet to watch the show, please do that first! There are some spoilers in this Activity Book, and we don't want you to miss out on the happy surprises you'll find in the story!

Thank you for joining us in the Eternal Kingdom.

Remember – how much you care is all that really matters!

Happy Holidays!

It's Your Coronation Day!

Congratulations, Your Majesty! Today, you will be crowned the King/Queen of your very own King/Queendom!

Have you ever imagined what it's like to be the leader of your own realm? What do you want the people in your King/Queendom to know about you? And how do you plan to take care of them as their King/Queen?

Have a think and write your first royal address in the blanks below!

My dear subjects,

My name is King/Queen _____.

I am honoured to be your King/Queen.

I promise to

1. _____,

2. _____,

and 3. _____.

In this Kingdom, everyone _____

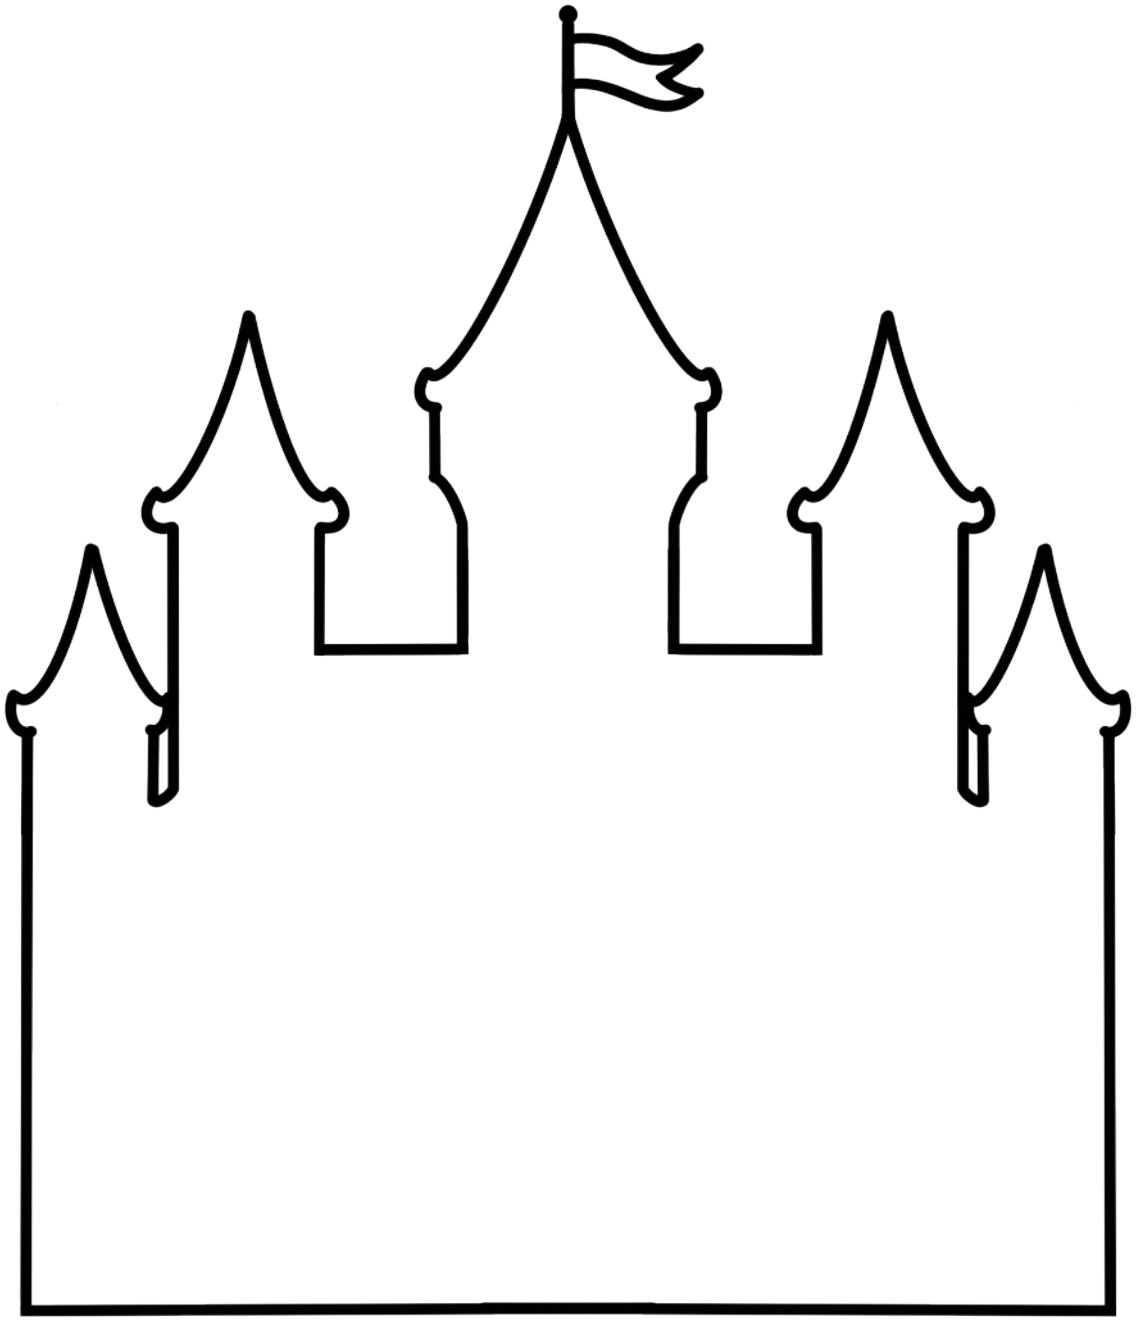

_____.

and will work together to _____

_____.

Design Your Dream Castle

Every King/Queendom has its own castle!
What would yours look like?
Have fun designing a castle of your own below!

Spot The Difference

There are a total of 10 differences between these two pictures.
Can you spot them all?

A Very Royal Word Search

Ten words from the show are hidden in the box below.
See if you can find all of them!

Out Of The Outer Limits

Prince Charming, the Dwarfs and I need to find our way out of the Outer Limits. Can you help us? Remember to avoid the Hill of Single Use Straws, Valley of Plastic Bags and Styrofoam Mountain. Good luck!

Mirror, Mirror On The Wall

Hurrah! We've made it back to the Eternal Kingdom! Let's celebrate by playing a fun game with our friends.

This is a game for 6 to 15 people. (You'll need a larger room for more participants!)

Duration:
10 - 20 minutes

1. Everyone stands in a big circle with one player in the centre.

2. The player in the centre says "Mirror, Mirror on the Wall". Everyone else responds by saying, "Who's the fairest of them all?"

3. The player in the centre will then call out an action or descriptive phrase by saying "Everyone who (action/ description) is the fairest of them all!" For example, "Everyone who likes ice cream is the fairest of them all!" or "Everyone who is wearing a blue piece of clothing is the fairest of them all!"

4. Players who fit the description must run from their spot and find another empty spot in the circle! At the same time, the player in the centre must run to find an empty spot in the circle.

5. The last player who hasn't found a new spot in the circle takes the centre spot and continues the game by saying "Mirror, Mirror on the Wall".

Poison Apple Recipe

The Queen gave me a Poison Apple that made me fall into a deep sleep. That wasn't very nice... but let's create our own nicer version of the Poison Apple! This one is safe to eat and pretty to look at!

Be sure to ask an adult for help with this activity.

What You'll Need:

- Apples
- White Chocolate
- Green Food Colouring
- Microwave-Safe Bowl
- Spoon
- Sealable Food Storage Bag
- Scissors
- Toothpick
- Microwave

Put some white chocolate into the bowl. Microwave for one minute, remove from the microwave, and stir.

Place the bowl in the microwave again for another minute. Next, give the white chocolate another good stir. The chocolate should be all melted and its consistency should be a thick liquid.

Add a few drops of green food colouring to the chocolate. Mix well.

Scoop the chocolate into a food storage bag and seal it.

Use the scissors to cut the tip off one corner of the bag so that it becomes a piping bag.

Start by piping two circles and an upside-down heart for the eyes and nose on the apple.

Pipe the chocolate to finish the outline of the face on the apple and fill it in. Use the toothpick to even the chocolate out.

8

Ta-da! You now have your own Poison Apple! You can eat it right away or let it chill in the fridge first before eating!

My Magic Mirror Says

Hey parents, this one's for you!
I believe that what makes us different also makes us special.
The magic mirrors on the next page can help to remind your children just how special they are.

1. Follow the dotted lines to cut out the mirrors on the next page.

2. Take some time to fill in the blanks for each of the different mirrors. Remember, the magic mirror does not lie!

3. Invite your child to colour and decorate the mirrors. You can also use this time to share what you've written on the mirrors.

4. Paste these magic mirrors on your child's actual mirror.

5. Now, your child has their very own magic mirror that reminds them of just how special they are!

You are

I want you to know that

I want you to remember that

You're the best at
